Embracing Diversity in a Journey Towards Reconciliation

This artwork is a powerful representation of FINEOS's journey towards reconciliation with Australia's First Nations people. The use of various traditional Indigenous symbols in the artwork illustrates FINEOS's commitment to learning, growing, and respecting the First Nations peoples' culture, history and traditions.

The dot work is a significant aspect of the artwork, which represents FINEOS's connection to the land and their deep respect for the First Nations peoples' connection to the land. It is a symbol of the importance of acknowledging and respecting the First Nations peoples as the traditional custodians of the land on which we all live and work.

Overall, this artwork encapsulates FINEOS's journey towards reconciliation with Australia's First Nations peoples. It is a reminder of the importance of fostering relationships built on mutual respect, trust and understanding, and acknowledging the diverse heritage, cultures and traditions of the First Nations peoples. Through this artwork, FINEOS is committed to promoting positive change and progress towards greater unity, respect and prosperity for all Australians.

About the Artist

Danielle Leedie Gray is a Graphic Artist, Designer and a Bidjara and Wakka Wakka woman of south west and east Queensland, Australia.

Danielle creates bold, contemporary pieces that make people feel joy and connection, and her artworks are a unique expression.

Danielle's work is guided by a deep sense of empathy towards her cultural heritage and family history, and invites unity and healing through the unique combination of culture and contemporary vision.

More personally, important symbols for Danielle are the people gathering (the circle with c's surrounding) and the travelling sign (three circles with three lines between them) because they reflect unity and moving forward.

Danielle wants to invite her work into the homes and businesses of non-indigenous people, and promote understanding of the symbols, stories and meaning in Aboriginal culture so together we create a united future for all Australians.

Reconciliation Australia CEO Statement

Karen Mundine
CEO Reconciliation Australia

Reconciliation Australia welcomes FINEOS to the Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) program with the formal endorsement of its inaugural Reflect RAP.

FINEOS joins a network of more than 1,100 corporate, government, and not-for-profit organisations that have made a formal commitment to reconciliation through the RAP program.

Since 2006, RAPs have provided a framework for organisations to leverage their structures and diverse spheres of influence to support the national reconciliation movement. The program's potential for impact is greater than ever, with close to 3 million people now working or studying in an organisation with a RAP.

The four RAP types — Reflect, Innovate, Stretch and Elevate — allow RAP partners to continuously develop and strengthen reconciliation commitments in new ways. This Reflect RAP will lay the foundations, priming the workplace for future RAPs and reconciliation initiatives.

The RAP program's strength is its framework of relationships, respect, and opportunities, allowing an organisation to strategically set its reconciliation commitments in line with its own business objectives, for the most effective outcomes.

These outcomes contribute towards the five dimensions of reconciliation: race relations; equality and equity; institutional integrity; unity; and historical acceptance.

It is critical to not only uphold all five dimensions of reconciliation, but also increase awareness of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures, histories, knowledge, and leadership across all sectors of Australian society.

This Reflect RAP enables FINEOS to deepen its understanding of its sphere of influence and the unique contribution it can make to lead progress across the five dimensions. Getting these first steps right will ensure the sustainability of future RAPs and reconciliation initiatives and provide meaningful impact toward Australia's reconciliation journey.

Congratulations FINEOS, welcome to the RAP program, and I look forward to following your reconciliation journey in the years to come.

Message from our CEO and CPO

Michael Kelly
Chief Executive Officer

On behalf of FINEOS, we are proud to present our inaugural Reflect Reconciliation Action Plan.

The Reflect RAP is an essential step for FINEOS to acknowledge and pay our respects to the local communities in which we operate, and to demonstrate our commitment to reconciliation by exploring how we, as an organisation, can make a positive contribution to the national reconciliation movement.

Over the next 12 months, the FINEOS RAP will focus on building trust and strengthening our relationships with First Nations Australians, whilst also deepening our understanding of past injustices and inequalities experienced.

Through our existing FINEOS DEI Embrace Program and the RAP framework, we will bring each team member on a journey of learning and growth. We will continue to use the RAP's framework of relationships, respect, and opportunities to drive our actions and find a place to harness our organisation's strengths to support better economic and social outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

At FINEOS, our vision is “a world where protection from illness, injury and loss is accessible to everyone.” We hope that by taking meaningful action in consultation with our customers and local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities, FINEOS will contribute to better health outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in the years ahead.

We are honoured to be given the opportunity to demonstrate our commitment to reconciliation, and we look forward to being part of the journey alongside our entire team.

Message from our APAC Regional GM

We are extremely grateful for this opportunity to embrace Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and explore possibilities to contribute towards achieving equality and equity of outcomes for First Nations Australians.

Our entire team, guided by our purpose to “help our customers care for the people they serve through the delivery of superior insurance technology” is predisposed to serve Australians and care about improving outcomes for people. This motivates our journey of reconciliation together to find ways to have a positive impact in the lives of First Nations Australians.

It has been a privilege to partner with Reconciliation Australia as we undertake to deliver on our RAP commitments. We are excited to look ahead to working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to continue to grow and shape our business in Australia.

We envisage a fair and just Australia for everyone, and endeavour to walk together with First Nations Australians in helping to achieve this.

Our Business

FINEOS is a leading software provider for Life, Accident and Health insurers globally, headquartered in Ireland and operating in Australia since 2005.

Our FINEOS purpose is to help our customers care for the people they serve through the delivery of superior insurance technology. We aspire to help people have a better quality of life, live longer, and recover faster in the case of illness or injury.

We aim to do this by providing person-centric software to commercial and government organisations who provide life, health, and statutory insurances such as workers' compensation to their customers and the Australian community. We collaborate with insurers, governments, health researchers, scientists, medical practitioners, and technology partners to continually innovate and improve our software, always keeping people at the heart of what we do.

FINEOS employees are team players committed to supporting and enriching the growth of others. We are results-driven and proactively address and remove obstacles for ourselves and others. These values drive us and underpin our purpose.

We are committed to championing and working towards greater inclusivity and equality in our workplace and society.

We have a global team of more than 1,000 employees, with 95 employees based in our Melbourne and Sydney offices. It is currently unknown how many Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples FINEOS employs, however we have committed to ascertaining this over the next 12 months as part of our Reflect RAP.

Our RAP

In 2022, FINEOS was awarded the Inclusion and Diversity Award at the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD) Ireland HR Awards, recognizing its newly launched diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) program called Embrace.

The Embrace program commits to championing DEI globally within the technology industry and the Life, Accident and Health insurance sector we serve, through supporting strategies and initiatives that help address systemic inequalities. The program also seeks to support opportunities to contribute to, and make a visible, positive, and material impact in, the communities where we work and live.

FINEOS would like to make this a reality in Australia and commence our journey to reconciliation by developing our first Reflect RAP. We acknowledge that we have a lot more to learn about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and cultures, and we see the RAP as a guiding light on this journey.

We have assigned a RAP Champion to drive awareness and governance of the RAP and our RAP Working Group (RWG) will work to support our commitments and deliverables, which are shared by our Global Team.

We are fortunate to have a RAP Working Group which is made up of senior employee volunteers across our business in Australia and New Zealand:

APAC In-Market Product Manager

Head of Organisational Learning and Development

TBC Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander representative

Our dedicated and passionate Organisational Learning and Development team will endeavour to support and embed understanding and recognition of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and rights within our organisation.

Our CEO, Chief People Officer and Regional General Manager will continue to generate awareness of the RAP through regular company communications, both globally and locally.

We intend to deepen our knowledge and build awareness and respect for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples across our organisation, and we are excited and humbled by this opportunity to seek guidance and advice from engagement with First Nations stakeholders.

We will encourage our workforce to celebrate and participate in NRW and NAIDOC Week, and we will look for opportunities during this RAP period to connect and collaborate with other RAP organisations to learn from each other and identify ways to make positive change together.
